Twenty Times a Day at Least,

In every street of every populous city in the universe, the question, "What is the best thing for a cough?" is reiterated. But deal with the cough while it is merely a cough; don't wait till the lungs are honeycombed. Up to that point the article is specific; beyond it, only a negative. For sale by the entire drug trade at 50c. and $1. Great saving by purchasing large size.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

After an Absconder.

New York, 8.—The World says: Inspector Dilkes sent out the following alarm from police headquarters yesterday: "Arrest Paul Sigel, aged 23, son of Gen. Sigel, assistant bookkeeper and collector; has absconded with checks for large amounts, some of them certified."

Not a Lunatic.

New York, 7.—The Tribune prints a letter from one of the most eminent jurists and public men in this country, reviewing the circumstances of Guitteau's crime, which says, in conclusion, that his act has all the attributes of a crime, and we may say negatively that he is not a lunatic.

Domestic Dashes.

Mineral Springs, Ark., 8.—At a negro barbecue here, on Wednesday, a quarrel began, and the trial was set for yesterday. The court room was early surrounded by 200 or more negroes, mostly armed with guns. The officers arrested one for drunkenness, and the negroes evinced a determination to take him away. Instantly forty or fifty whites appeared armed, and protected the officers. No further trouble is expected.

The Gigantic Experiment.

London, 8.—After a long review of James Parton's article, "Power of Public Plunder," the Times concludes as follows: It is small wonder that the gigantic experiment which America is working out should not always go without a fault; but the Americans have at least the merit that they are perfectly alive to their own faults, and that when their faults become intolerable they set themselves to cure them. Parton's picture is a gloomy one, but there is another side to it, and the time has not yet come for him to despair of the republic.

Snubbed.

London, 8.—Something of a scandal is created by the ranger of Windsor Park having omitted to reserve accommodation for the members of the House of Lords and Commons at the great review of volunteer troops by the Queen, which takes place to-morrow. In the Commons, yesterday, Scribner, conservative, questioned the secretary of war about it. Thos. P. O'Connor asked what was the name of this ranger who had snubbed the House of Commons. Childress, protesting against the use of the word snubbed, said the ranger was Prince Christian. Notice was given of a further question to Gladstone on the subject.

Guitteau's Wife Interviewed.

Denver, 8.—The Leadville Chronicle, this afternoon, contains an interview with Mrs. Theodore Dunsmuir, the divorced wife of Charles J. Guitteau. She was married to Dunsmuir at Boulder, Col., in 1878, and is now residing in this city. She showed the decree of divorce granted in 1874 on the grounds of adultery, allowing her alimony and prohibiting Guitteau from marrying until her death. She says he was very cruel to her from the time of marriage, and that when he was a member of Henry Ward Beecher's church he would lead in prayer, and as soon as the meeting was dismissed tell her of some of his swindling schemes. That when given a note to collect for a client, he would turn over only half of the collection and report that it was impossible to collect the remainder. Guitteau's father is cashier of the First National Bank of Freeport, Ills. While in New York Guitteau got to spending all his money and time at fast houses, and finally told her she would have to support herself. She went to Saratoga and remained two months. On her return she found that Guitteau had a loathsome disease. Her friends discovered the fact and urged her to get a divorce which she did. She was afterwards clerk in the treasury department at Washington. He never paid any alimony. Last February she received a note from Guitteau requesting permission to remarry. She answered saying the permission would be granted on the payment of $100. He wrote again saying he had no money but was about to marry a wealthy lady and would pay the money as soon as married. To this she paid no attention. She thinks the attempt to assassinate the President was simply prompted by his morbid desire for notoriety, for which he would, she thinks, give his life.

LATEST FROM THE SICK CHAMBER.

Not One Unfavorable Symptom Developed To-day.

Chicago, 7.—Washington special: Secretary Blaine was met coming out of the White House at 1 o'clock, by your correspondent, and in response to an inquiry said: The chances are decidedly on the President's side to-day. There has not been an unfavorable symptom developed to-day—absolutely not one, and everything is progressing as well as we could expect. I think he will get through all right. Dr. Bliss confirmed what the secretary said, and added also: The discharge this morning was small, about three drops in all, and entirely healthy. It came from around the mouth of the wound, and not from the inside. The indications are very favorable, and we see nothing to discourage us. He is steadily improving and gaining strength. Secondary hemorrhage has not yet shown itself.

Washington, 7.—Among the dispatches read by Secretary Blaine, this morning, were the following: Paris, 7.

To the Secretary of State: Grief on account of the event warms our sympathies. (Signed) LAFAYETTE FAMILY.

BULLETINS.

Executive Mansion, Washington, S. 8:30 a.m.—President Garfield's condition this morning is reported by Dr. Bliss as favorable. He was somewhat restless during the early part of the night, complaining of soreness in his legs, but this quickly disappeared and he slept well during the latter part of the night, and awakened this morning greatly refreshed. His general condition, this morning, it is thought is better than at any time. His pulse at 8:30 a.m. was 66.

Executive mansion, July 8, 8:15 a.m.—The condition of the President continues favorable. He is more comfortable than on any previous morning. Pulse 98, temperature 99.2°, respiration 23. The wound is beginning to discharge laudable pus. (Signed) D. W. BLISS, J. K. BARNES, J. J. WOODWARD, ROBT. REYBURN.

The term "laudable" as applied to pus means the healthy sloughing of the wound without inflammation or abscess. His appetite continues to lead his bill of fare several lengths. He is always hungry. The day is intensely hot.

11 o'clock.—The President continues to improve. A strong wind is blowing, and broken clouds obscure the sun at intervals. The day is not uncomfortable, as expected.

Executive Mansion, 12:30 p.m.—The progress of the President continues favorable. Pulse 108, temperature 101.4, respiration 24. (Signed) D. W. BLISS, J. K. BARNES, J. J. WOODWARD, ROBT. REYBURN.

Executive Mansion, 1 p.m.—The increase in the pulse and temperature of the President since morning are attributed by attending surgeons to the heat at noon and the process of suppuration which is going on in the wound near the surface of the body. This process, which is accompanied by a slight discharge of pus, is entirely natural and is an expected and necessary result of the injury at this stage of the case.

The wound has just been dressed and Dr. Bliss says it is in good condition. The pulse has gone up since morning, and so has the temperature and respiration, but the doctors insist that this is not a bad sign. All favorable symptoms remain.

At 3:30 physicians say the President's condition continues encouraging. He partakes of liquid food with avidity and without bad consequences.

Official bulletin. Executive Mansion. The President's condition is favorable. He has passed a very comfortable afternoon and has taken more nutriment than on the previous day. Pulse 108, temperature 101.3°, respiration 24. (Signed) D. W. BLISS, J. K. BARNES, J. J. WOODWARD, ROBT. REYBURN.

The conditions continue so favorable that there will be no further bulletins until to-morrow morning.

The Wees of Europe.

London, 8.—Times' Berlin: Nothing is known authoritatively of the rumored meeting of the allied Emperors at Gastein, or of Bismarck and Baron Von Heymerle at Kissingen.

Paris, 8.—The French journals, La Liberte and Le National, evince great irritation at the recent question in the British Parliament about French operations in Tunis, and warn the House of Lords and Commons that they had better mind their own business. Only one corps of the French army will be mobilized now.

Tunis, 8.—The French frigates Alma and Reine Blanche and three gunboats are shelling Ifax. A transport with 1,200 Tunisian troops is lying off Ifax. The English gunboat Bittern has gone there.

Here of McNamara.

San Francisco, 8.—Napa dispatch: McNamara, the would-be assassin of Blaine, is supposed to have been at one time confined in an asylum here. From the records of the asylum it appears that Daniel McNamara, of Ireland, aged 37 years, was admitted March 29th, 1876. He was sergeant of the First Battery, First Regiment of Mounted Artillery, and was discharged from the army July 21st, 1874, and was discharged from the asylum July 18th, 1879, as improved, and it is supposed that afterwards he went to Philadelphia.

The Fasting Fool.

Chicago, 8.—Griscom weighs 150 pounds on entering the forty-second day, a loss of two pounds since yesterday, and forty-six and a half since the start. His pulse is 72, respiration 20, temperature 99. The venture has been a financial failure and he is much discouraged over the fact.

NORMALS.

THE BOARD OF EXAMINATIONS will meet with applicants who desire the appointment as Normal for the ensuing year, July 30th, at 10 o'clock a.m., in the Twentieth District School-house, and from the number of applicants will select eight, the apportionment of this county.

T. B. LEWIS, County Superintendent.
